

Highlands

Mid Century Modern

As an intended build for battle axe block, this expansive residence is a credit to its modern cube like design. With strong linear and angular dimensions, this custom designed home has maximised its interior and exterior. In addition to a sizeable and spacious upper floor with multiple living areas adjoining one side of the home to the other, is a glorious balcony come breezeway overlooking an integrated alfresco. A well-appointed kitchen with scullery is surrounded by large windows and stacker doors that wrap around this home allowing a soft filter of light throughout giving it an ambient feel.

