

Boulevard

Mid Century Modern

With an architectural style difficult to immediately categorise, the Boulevard fuses elements of mid century modern with hints of the art deco era, creating a striking elevation that is both contemporary and nostalgic, and would be very much at home amongst the classic architectural styles of the Perth's western suburbs. Inside, the design is every inch contemporary living with the functional spaces wrapping around the open plan living and entertaining areas.

